CHEERS FROM BOTH SIDES — President Eisenhower responds to a standing ovation from House and Senate members just before delivering his space-age State of the Union message. He built his message around an eight-point program of "imperative" actions to counter the Communist threat.

Scientist Tells Chamber Man's Space Visit Certain

Buck Rogers stories are no joke. That's the opinion of scientist Richard Anderson, assistant to the director of Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, who spoke to the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce last night at Pickaway Country Club.

Anderson gave the 80-plus members of the Chamber present for the annual meeting an entertaining and informative insight into the subject "Satellites and Space Travel".

The Chamber heard reports from outgoing president D. E. McDonald, who reviewed activities for the year 1957, and from Darrell Hatfield, secretary-treasurer. New president C. K. (Bill) Vaughan was installed along with new directors Mayor Ben H. Gordon, Frank Barnhill and Ned Harden.

Spicing his talk with a rapier-like wit, Anderson went over the history of the International Geophysical Year which started last July 1.

He explained how little man knows of the earth we live on, the very ground we walk on. The object of IGY he said is to find out more about our surroundings.

Mother Kills 3 Children Then Herself

RENO, Nev. (AP) — "We are all bad seed," read a note left by a wealthy insurance executive's estranged wife.

Her bullet-torn body and those of the couple's three children were found side by side Thursday on a bedroom floor of their $50,000 home.

Victims of what police described as child killing and suicide were Mrs. D. Yvonne Cavanaugh, 34, recently released from a mental hospital, and her children, Anthony, 9, Carol, 8, and Kevin, 4.

Robert Cavanaugh, husband and father, who had been separated from his wife more than six months, was in Chicago when the shootings occurred — apparently after the two older children returned from school Wednesday. Cavanaugh is secretary of the Illinois Commercial Men's Assn.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William Ragio told of blood-spattered and bullet-pocked upstairs walls, indicating that Mrs. Cavanaugh may have chased and shot the children in various rooms before bringing them downstairs to lay them in a row in her lavish bedroom.

A note read:
"We are all bad seed. There never were four more unhappy and unhealthy people, and it's getting worse every day."

LAGUNA BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Hotel Laguna has got back the new drapes that disappeared the day after they were installed in a second-floor corridor. A big package contained a note that said: "Didn't fit my windows."

now," he declared. "The earth is 8,000 miles thick, and we've explored only to a depth of two miles. We know practically nothing about the air—and above."

Anderson pointed out that the only way to get information for the IGY on outer space was to put something up there long enough to get information. A rocket was the only answer he reported, since it requires no outside air for propulsion. A satellite was the only possible means of obtaining the data needed, Anderson said.

"No scientist had qualms about putting a satellite into the air. All agreed it would work. The only trouble was—it was expensive."

Those interested in IGY went to Washington to get money and found a friend in the Navy, he said.

Court Hears School Suits

Wayne, NH Seek
Two Injunctions

Hearing on two Pickaway County school injunction suits were to open at 1:30 p. m. today in Common Pleas Court.

On the bench for the hearing was Judge Darrell Hottel, Highland County.

New Holland and Wayne Twp. residents filed an injunction suit against the Pickaway County Board of Education; George D. McDowell, board clerk and superintendent of county schools; Westfall Board of Education and Briece Connell, clerk of the Westfall Board.

Wayne and New Holland are seeking a permanent injunction to prevent interference in the affairs of their school boards and with their school assets. The case raises the question of whether the schools can be consolidated into a district when there is pending before the state board of education a petition for transfer to another district. Wayne seeks to join the Circleville city school system and New Holland wishes to join the Miami Trace School District in Fayette County.

Berger Hospital Board Eyes Plans for Expanding Service

The Board of Governors of Berger Hospital is investigating the need for additional facilities to the present hospital building.

A Building Committee was appointed some time ago and has the matter under consideration. This committee consists of both city and county-appointed board members.

Current growth of the community and prospects for continued expansion of city and county population are being taken into consideration, as well as data on the percentage of occupancy of the hospital beds during the last several years, board members report.

Attempting to anticipate the growing needs for patient treatment over the next 10 or more years, the Building Committee is conducting surveys and has had preliminary plans and estimates prepared by the architects who planned the last addition to the hospital. Final plans will have to be approved by the State Hospital Board.

Recommendations will be sought from firms or individuals who conduct surveys and pass on plans for hospital expansion program, in order to get expert opinion from outside sources.

BEFORE ANY expansion program is approved by the Board of Governors, approval will be sought from the medical staff at the hospital and by the Pickaway County Medical Society.

More planning is entailed than simply the addition of more patient beds, according to the board. The last expansion program has taxed the capacity of the visitors' waiting room facilities as well as the operating room capacities.

Any program of additional patient bed capacity must include expansion of waiting rooms for visitors and additional operating rooms and facilities, the board feels.

The question of financing must be considered after requirements for care of patients have been planned adequately and approved by the full board membership.

Jailed Segregationist Billeted with Negroes

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Segregationist John Kasper is working in the warehouse of the federal prison at Tallahassee, Fla., in sharing his 50-bunk cellblock with several Negroes.

Deputy U. S. Marshal Bill Robinson said he saw Kasper Wednesday when he took some Knoxville prisoners to the prison.

Kasper is serving a sentence for criminal contempt of court in connection with racial disorders at Clinton, Tenn., in 1956.

Ike's New Budget Said $73.8 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will send to Congress Monday a missile age budget calling for $73.8 billion or more in spending and an increase in the federal debt ceiling, government informants said today.

The new budget, covering the 1959 fiscal year starting next July 1, will be precisely balanced, as Eisenhower hinted in his State of the Union message Thursday.

But the President will notify Congress that the supposedly balanced budget for the present government year is now expected to show a small deficit instead of a planned $1 billion surplus.

Eisenhower reportedly will attribute the return to deficit financing to two factors: (1) A $1.3 billion increase in scheduled defense department outlays; and (2) a drop of about $1 billion in estimated revenues, caused by declining business profits and personal income.

THE DEFICIT will be well under half a billion dollars, informants said, but the return to red ink is a major disappointment to the administration. Only three months ago the administration announced it would have its third balanced budget in a row.

The same causes—faster military spending, slower tax collection—will oblige Eisenhower to seek a temporary, "slight" increase in the $275 billion ceiling on the public debt.

The expected budget request of close to 74 billion dollars will be about $2 billion higher than Eisenhower's original estimate for this fiscal year and roughly $1 billion higher than this year's actual outlays.

This will represent the highest federal spending since World War II. Former President Harry S. Truman had a bigger budget in 1953, costliest year of the Korean War, but his $74.3 billion budget included highway spending and Eisenhower's does not. A separate highway trust fund was established under a 1956 law.

The President told Congress there will be substantial steps in outlays for missiles, nuclear ships, atomic energy, research and development and education.

In his State of the Union message, he confirmed reports that a special contingency fund (understood to total $500 million) would be requested, to be spent at his discretion to exploit possible new technological discoveries. There also will be requests for pay increases to enable the government to get and hold competent manpower, he said.

Women's Penal Expert Retiring

Marguerite Reiley
Served Ohio 22 Years

COLUMBUS (AP) — Mrs. Marguerite Reiley, the woman who guided the lives of hundreds of Ohio women reformatory inmates for more than 22 years, will retire Feb. 1.

That announcement came today from Maury Kohlentz, chief of the Ohio Division of Correction. He said Mrs. Reiley, long rumored as on the point of leaving her post as superintendent of the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville, had written her decision.

He said she explained that a leg injury suffered two years ago has caused her considerable pain and difficulty. She had been hospitalized in recent weeks. He added that a number of applicants for the superintendency are being screened. Until a successor is selected, Mrs. Reiley's daughter, Mrs. Jean R. Goche, a reformatory official, will be acting chief.

Mrs. Reiley accepted a "temporary" appointment as superintendent on Dec. 1, 1935. In the years that followed she became one of the nation's top prison administrators and transformed the scandal-ridden reformatory into a model women's institution.

IN A RECENT interview, she tried to sum up those 22 years. "When I first came here," she said, "this was a silent place. People talked in whispers and when I passed down a corridor, the girls would sink along the walls with their heads down."

"All that has changed now. If I have done nothing else here, I have at least taught these girls to walk with their heads up."

"I like them (the inmates) to feel that Marysville is a green light, not a dead end. It's up to them to make of their time what they will. We try to help them make a new start, but everything depends upon the individual. After all, no one twisted their arm to make them wind up here."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats called on President Eisenhower today to back up with specific blueprints for action the eight-point program he laid before Congress Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set the show-me tone of reaction to the proposals Eisenhower outlined in his State of the Union message. Eisenhower said they are needed to meet the growing space era threat of what he repeatedly called "Communist imperialism."

"The President has in general terms set forth some worthy objectives," Johnson said. "He has called for strengthening of our allies, greater understanding and commerce between nations and attempts to bring peace to the world. These have long been Democratic objectives."

Roars over Atlantic

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The U. S. Air Force successfully launched its fourth Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile today.

The giant missile rose from its launching pad, in a puff of white smoke and a tremendous flash of flame, at 10:48 a. m. Within 15 minutes the Pentagon announced that "the test, which was not full range, was successful."

This meant that the Atlas, designed to fly more than 5,000 miles, was assigned a shorter range for this test flight and operated accurately over that distance. It rose slowly through hazy clouds. Its bright trail of fire was visible for three minutes.

The thunder of its mighty engines, a primary motor and two boosters, could be heard even after the missile itself vanished in high clouds.

Shortly before disappearing into the overcast, the missile arched over gradually to the southeast and toward the test range which extends 5,000 miles out across the Atlantic Ocean.

THE ATLAS, designed to carry a hydrogen bomb warhead, is the American answer to the Soviet claim of intercontinental ballistic capability.

This was the second successful firing of "The Beast," as the Atlas builders call it.

On the first two tries, the 70-foot, 100-ton missile started to get out of control shortly after launching and had to be destroyed.

The third launching last Dec. 17 was successful over a 600-mile (Continued on Page Twelve)

Steinhauser Seeks Post As Commissioner

Bernard Steinhauser, Route 1, Clarksburg, yesterday became the third Democrat to take out petitions for nomination as Pickaway County Commissioner, according to the Board of Elections.

Steinhauser was born Feb. 16, 1908 in Deercreek Twp. and is a third generation farmer to be raised in Pickaway County. This is Steinhauser's first attempt at commissioner's job.

Steinhauser is active in high school work and has a daughter, Eleanor, 16, attending Clarksburg High School. He also has a son William, 21, and another daughter Diane attending the Ohio University Branch in Chillicothe.

Steinhauser says, "I wish to serve the people of Pickaway County and everyone will be treated alike for the best interest of the residents of the county."

Also seeking the Democratic nomination are Charles Morris, Salt Creek Twp., and incumbent Harley Mace, Williamsport.

Bulganin Insists On Summit Parley

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia's latest and most insistent demand for an East-West summit conference on crucial cold war issues got intensive study and a cold reaction today in official Washington.

In a message to President Eisenhower, Premier Bulganin said he proposes to call an East-West summit meeting, perhaps in Geneva, in the next two or three months.

Pravda said Bulganin messages went to the 15 NATO nations and the other countries of the 82-member United Nations. Moscow radio said Switzerland and other nations not in the U.N. also received messages.

The announcement showed there was a new and insistent note in Bulganin's newest bid for a summit meeting. The Moscow wording was: "The Soviet government proposes to call in the course of the next two or three months of 1958 a conference of leading statesmen on a high level in which the heads of government will participate."

This stands as a declaration of intention to act with or without the agreement of any particular country such as the United States.

There was no evidence the United States intends to change its basic policy against having a new top-level meeting under present conditions.

THE POLICY is that any such conference must be preceded by careful diplomatic exploration and evidence that the Soviet government is prepared to make concessions in its position on such issues as disarmament and German reunification.

Officials here were aware, however, that Bulganin's new diplomatic broadside may generate new hope in Europe for reducing the dangers of a devastating nuclear war.

Secretary of State Dulles was reported to have expressed some optimism on the prospect of resuming disarmament negotiations below the summit level. Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark.) said Dulles, in talking with the Senate Foreign Relations committee, "expressed some hope about the future."

"He said he had reasons to believe Russia might be more amenable to discussion of disarmament later, that something may develop that would improve the climate for negotiation," Fulbright added, but said Dulles did not discuss his reasons.

Fulbright and several other members agreed, in commenting on the Russian note, that a summit conference is not indicated now, but they said there is a need for preliminary negotiations.

Russia already has rejected a NATO suggestion for a foreign ministers' meeting as a means of breaking the arms deadlock.

According to Moscow radio, which broadcast a summary, Bulganin's newest note also opposed foreign ministers' meeting, saying that "certain possible participants in a meeting at this level" would bring prejudices which might wreck the negotiations.

Toledo Gambling King Dies at 63

TOLEDO (AP) — Joe Fretti, who once drew a compliment from Sen. Kefauver for his frankness about his gambling activities, died of cancer Thursday at 63.

Fretti appeared before the Kefauver senate crime hearings in Cleveland in 1951. He was the only Ohio racketeer to testify before the crime committee without legal counsel. He said he didn't need any because "I decided the only thing to do was tell the truth and I didn't need a lawyer to do that."

Sen. Kefauver told him, "I must say that, although I hope they catch up with you and put you out of business, you have been frank and forthright and a great help to the committee."

Eisenhower Urged To Back Up New Program with Specific Blueprints

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats called on President Eisenhower today to back up with specific blueprints for action the eight-point program he laid before Congress Thursday.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas set the show-me tone of reaction to the proposals Eisenhower outlined in his State of the Union message. Eisenhower said they are needed to meet the growing space era threat of what he repeatedly called "Communist imperialism."

"The President has in general terms set forth some worthy objectives," Johnson said. "He has called for strengthening of our allies, greater understanding and commerce between nations and attempts to bring peace to the world. These have long been Democratic objectives."

"Now we are waiting for his blueprints for meeting those objectives. As soon as he lays them down, our committee will consider his recommendations."

Although Johnson and Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn (D-Tex.) both praised Eisenhower's speech, there was mounting evidence of Democratic disappointment that Eisenhower did not make any spectacular proposals for an immediate buildup in American military might.

An analysis of the President's proposals circulated among Democratic senators said that basically the message was "long on proposals and short on performance."

"Even the program to step up national security boils down to pumping a little more money into existing projects and promising vaguely to reorganize the defense structure," the analysis said. Republicans were practically unanimous in their praise of Eisenhower's personally delivered message. Some Democrats lauded it but many were critical.

Rayburn said he was "glad to know the President is alive to what the American people are disturbed about and this is the bickering and dissension among the services in the Pentagon."

Leaving off his eight points with his reference to defense reorganization, Eisenhower called for a speedup in production of missiles, nuclear submarines and other modern weapons. Congress seemed disposed to give him all the funds he might ask in this field.

Meanwhile, Nelson A. Rockefeller told investigating senators today a drastic overhaul of defense machinery and goals must "be taken now to assure our survival."

He said this was the unanimous opinion of some 30 national leaders who participated in a study of the present defense mechanisms and longrange policies.

Rockefeller testified before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee which has been probing deep into U. S. missile, satellite and weapons programs. The inquiry was touched off by the success of Soviet Sputniks and indications the Russians are ahead of this country in rocketry.

Rockefeller said this nation, as a leader of the free world, faces critical decisions in the next 10 to 15 years in the field of international security.

He said the major U. S. effort must be concentrated now on meeting what he called "two somber threats"—one coming from the Communist push for world domination and the other from a rapidly developing weapons technology which could destroy mankind.

Scientist Tells Chamber Man's Space Visit Certain

Buck Rogers stories are no joke. That's the opinion of scientist Richard Anderson, assistant to the director of Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, who spoke to the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce last night at Pickaway Country Club.

Anderson gave the 80-plus members of the Chamber present for the annual meeting an entertaining and informative insight into the subject "Satellites and Space Travel."

The Chamber heard reports from outgoing president D. E. McDonald, who reviewed activities for the year 1957, and from Darrell Hatfield, secretary-treasurer. New president C. K. (Bill) Vaughan was installed along with new directors Mayor Ben H. Gordon, Frank Barnhill and Ned Harden.

Spicing his talk with a rapier-like wit, Anderson went over the history of the International Geophysical Year which started last July 1.

He explained how little man knows of the earth we live on, the very ground we walk on. The object of IGY he said is to find out more about our surroundings.

"EVERY FIELD of science leads to an area of ignorance

now," he declared. "The earth is 8,000 miles thick, and we've explored only to a depth of two miles. We know practically nothing about the air—and above."

Anderson pointed out that the only way to get information for the IGY on outer space was to put something up there long enough to get information. A rocket was the only answer he reported, since it requires no outside air for propulsion. A satellite was the only possible means of obtaining the data needed, Anderson said.

"No scientist had qualms about putting a satellite into the air. All agreed it would work. The only trouble was—it was expensive."

Those interested in IGY went to Washington to get money and found a friend in the Navy, he stated. The Navy got the task—well-known Vanguard project. "Everyone was told what the United States proposed to do. It was in all the magazines."

"Another nation began to understand the propaganda value of such an act. The whole world knew what we proposed. We set the stage, and the Russians did it in their unilateral, one-track fashion," Anderson declared.

"We have not been satisfied to limit our concentration on one thing. We are interested in progress in other fields as well as in science, and I'm for that, too," he said.

Anderson said, "We have encouraged competition in production of the ICBM. The Army, Navy and Air Force all have them. By diluting our efforts, we've postponed the date when we can emulate the Russians. But, we can do it. The only trouble is, the kick of being first is gone."

Court Hears School Suits

Wayne, NH Seek Two Injunctions

Hearing on two Pickaway County school injunction suits were to open at 1:30 p. m. today in Common Pleas Court.

On the bench for the hearing was Judge Darrell Hottel, Highland County.

New Holland and Wayne Twp. residents filed an injunction suit against the Pickaway County Board of Education; George D. McDowell, board clerk and superintendent of county schools; Westfall Board of Education and Brice Connell, clerk of the Westfall board.

Wayne and New Holland are seeking a permanent injunction to prevent interference in the affairs of their school boards and with their school assets. The case raises the question of whether the schools can be consolidated into a district when there is pending before the state board of education a petition for transfer to another district. Wayne seeks to join the Circleville city school system and New Holland wishes to join the Miami Trace School District in Fayette County.

Berger Hospital Board Eyes Plans for Expanding Service

The Board of Governors of Berger Hospital is investigating the need for additional facilities to the present hospital building.

A Building Committee was appointed some time ago and has the matter under consideration. This committee consists of both city and county-appointed board members.

Current growth of the community and prospects for continued expansion of city and county population are being taken into consideration, as well as data on the percentage of occupancy of the hospital beds during the last several years, board members report.

Attempting to anticipate the growing needs for patient treatment over the next 10 or more years, the Building Committee is conducting surveys and has had preliminary plans and estimates prepared by the architects who planned the last addition to the hospital. Final plans will have to be approved by the State Hospital Board.

Recommendations will be sought from firms or individuals who conduct surveys and pass on plans for hospital expansion program, in order to get expert opinion from outside sources.

BEFORE ANY expansion program is approved by the Board of Governors, approval will be sought from the medical staff at the hospital and by the Pickaway County Medical Society.

More planning is entailed than simply the addition of more patient beds, according to the board. The last expansion program has taxed the capacity of the visitors' waiting room facilities as well as the operating room capacities. Any program of additional patient bed capacity must include expansion of waiting rooms for visitors and additional operating rooms and facilities, the board feels.

The question of financing must be considered after requirements for care of patients have been planned adequately and approved by the full board membership.

Mother Kills 3 Children Then Herself

RENO, Nev. (AP)—"We are all bad seed," read a note left by a wealthy insurance executive's estranged wife.

Her bullet-riddled body and those of the couple's three children were found side by side Thursday on a bedroom floor of their $50,000 home.

Victims of what police described as child killing and suicide were Mrs. D. Yvonne Cavanaugh, 34, recently released from a mental hospital, and her children, Anthony, 9, Carol, 8, and Kevin, 4.

Robert Cavanaugh, husband and father, who had been separated from his wife more than six months, was in Chicago when the shootings occurred—apparently after the two older children returned from school Wednesday. Cavanaugh is secretary of the Illinois Commercial Men's Assn.

Asst. Dist. Atty. William Ragio told of blood-spattered and bullet-pocked upstairs walls, indicating that Mrs. Cavanaugh may have chased and shot the children in various rooms before bringing them downstairs to lay them in a row in her lavish bedroom.

A note read: "We are all bad seed. There never were four more unhappy and unhealthy people, and it's getting worse every day."

Visitation Board Report Approved

Probate Judge Guy G. Cline yesterday approved the 1957 Pickaway County Board of Visitors report as required by law. The Board is composed of Mrs. Verna Grimes, Route 1, New Holland; Wade Canter, Ashville; Mrs. Pearl B. May, 225 S. Court St.; Dr. Ned B. Griner, M. D., 141 E. Union St.; Mrs. Ann Hoover, Route 1, Ashville, and C. E. Hill, Williamsport.

The Board met December 11 at 1 p. m. in the local Probate Court Room. C. E. Hill was elected president and Wade Canter, secretary. All members present completed an inspection trip of the County Jail, Children's Home, County Home and City Jail.

A similar inspection trip was made by Hill and Mrs. Grimes during the first three months of 1957. The Board scheduled an inspection trip for 1958 between January and March by Hill and Mrs. Grimes. Between April and June an inspection trip will be made by Canter and Mrs. Grimes. Mrs. May and Dr. Griner will make an inspection trip between October and November.

The annual meeting date was set for the first Wednesday in September.

THEIR inspection of the County Jail found it well kept and in good order in all respects. There were 31 men in the jail at that time.

The Board recommended a complete new City Jail. The City of Circleville has a contract with the County to handle persons sentenced by the Municipal Court. This is due to the fact that the City Jail is inadequate to house prisoners because of its antiquity and poor condition. If the County had not accepted this contract the City would need to build a new jail.

Since persons are kept overnight in the City prison until a hearing is possible, the Board stated that there is a need for toilets, washbasins, soap and towels. There is also a need for better heating. At

Mrs. Brumfield, mother of four children, told Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff that she lost consciousness while walking from her house to a nearby shed. She apparently was suffering from an attack of flu and a nervous condition.

She was found by Harold Dowden who owns the farm where the Brumfields live.

ical problems involved and must have gained invaluable information which they have not shared with us.

"If they can shoot a 1000-pound rocket into orbit they can put a man there. He'll be then a true space traveler. The first 10 men probably won't get back alive, but never sell man's curiosity short. The same force that sent Columbus across the seas will force man to see what lies in space."

"Reliable scientific journals have already outlined detailed plans for a trip to Mars. It'll be from a space station several hundred miles up. A sure way will be found to use atomic energy for fuel which will make the trip more expensive."

Anderson also called for everyone to keep an open mind about UFO (unidentified flying objects). "We have no idea what they are," he stated. He also said that "the very fact that we are here shows it's possible for other beings to exist. When trained observers, such as airline pilots see things in the sky, I, for one, refuse to mock them."

"Things are now such that normal people are afraid to report seeing strange things for fear of ridicule. With that frame of mind we won't be ready for the space age, which is just around the corner," he concluded.

Police Arrest Two Juveniles For Burglary

Circleville police last night picked up two more juveniles connected with a burglary at Walnut St. School this week.

It marked the sixth juvenile apprehended here by police in connection with the Walnut School burglary and one at Circleville High School during the weekend. The apprehensions last night resulted in recovery of four record players taken from Walnut School. One of the players was heavily damaged, apparently by the juveniles.

Local police worked on the investigation about four days. The youths picked up last night, 16 and 14-years-old, were taken into custody by Sgt. Turney Ross and Patrolmen Robert Temple and Forrest Sowards.

Temple and Patrolman Russell Ogan apprehended the other four juveniles earlier in the week. The youths were turned over to Pickaway County Juvenile authorities.

Stock Mart Shows Decline In Trading

NEW YORK (U) — Steels, aircrafts and rails lost ground as the stock market declined in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Key issues were off from fractions to a point or so. It was a continuation of a downward move which followed President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Thursday. Market analysts felt the economic aspects of the speech had been well discounted early in the week.

Meanwhile reports of layoffs and cutbacks in the automobile industry and a reduction in loanable funds of commercial banks backgrounded the market.

Losses of around a point were taken by United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft and Chrysler while Youngstown Sheet lost more than a point.

Phillips Petroleum had a temporary spurt of a point and North American Aviation a fraction on report that the firms were planning to form a company to specialize in rocket power. Both stocks settled to small fractional gains.

Losers included Illinois Central, Gulf Oil, Union Carbide, Good-year, Sears Roebuck and General Motors.

U. S. government bonds were slightly higher.

Health Official Suggests City, County Join Services

E. A. Graber of the Ohio State Department of Public Health spoke before the Circleville general Parents Teachers Assn. last night in the Circleville High School auditorium.

Graber stated that a good public health department consists of four basic persons, physician, sanitarian, nurse and clerk. From this personnel a county should expect the following six services:

1. Vital statistics service. 2. Chronic and communicable disease service. 3. Environmental sanitation. 4. Maternal and child health service. 5. Laboratory service. 6. Health education service.

After his talk Graber conducted a question and answer period. The decision to unite city and county health departments can be made by either City Council or by the county advisory council. The advisory council consists of the chairman of the trustees of the townships and the village mayors.

Such a contract drawn by either council must contain the date at which time the health departments will unite. The contract must have a safety or escape clause to enable either party to withdraw, giving six months notice.

Mutual assurances by both the county and city of equal enforcement throughout both districts must be included in the contract, as well as how the program will be financed and on what basis. A proportionate payment plan is essential. Graber suggested an assessed valuation plan, which has worked in other counties.

Representatives from both the city and county should be on a single board of health. A legal name should also be adopted for the board.

AT PRESENT the City of Circleville has a full-time nurse, part-time sanitarian and a full-time clerk to serve an estimated 10,047 residents. The county has a part-time physician, full-time nurse, part-time sanitarian and a full-time clerk to serve 22,429 people.

Both population figures are estimated to be low.

Graber pointed out that it would cost the city approximately $30,000 per year to employ a physician, nurse, sanitarian and clerk. With 10,000 or 12,000 population, this would mean around $3 per capita. He stated that no city with this number of people could afford a program as proposed, but must combine with the county.

Graber stated that the ideal city-county setup would consist of one physician, who could be shared by another county, four nurses, two sanitarians, and two clerks. This would cost approximately $50,000 per year and if the physician was shared by another county the cost would be less.

If Pickaway County qualified for state participation it would be eligible for services of the Ohio Health Department plus federal aid. If such a setup were in existence in 1957, Graber said, the county would have received roughly, $2,500 to $3,000, from the state alone.

range. The Air Force said the missile landed in a preselected target area.

When told of the successful launching, President Eisenhower exclaimed: "Good!"

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said that the President got word of the shot while he was conferring with Secretary of the Treasury Anderson.

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) told the Senate Preparedness subcommittee of the successful Atlas test and termed it "quite encouraging."

Johnson said this was only a partial trial of the planned intercontinental weapon.

But he said it added weight to demands of the Senate group that funds for speeding up the actual production of such missiles be provided.

TODAY'S TEST had been believed scheduled for only about 600 miles. No attempt to fire the Atlas over its full 5,000-mile range is expected until late this year. It is designed to streak that distance in 25 minutes.

The tall, silvery Atlas was rolled away from its working tower shortly after 8 a. m.

A haze enveloped the base and the Atlas was just barely visible to watchers from the beaches.

About 10 a. m. the red ball which signifies an imminent shoot was lowered and it appeared that a "hold" had been called in the countdown toward the zero hour, originally set for 10 o'clock.

Forty-eight minutes later newsmen and photographers on the beach were caught by surprise when the Atlas blasted off.

1958 Soil Bank Signup Period To Start Monday

The signup period for the 1958 Acreage Reserve program will open Monday and close March 7, according to Luther List, chairman, Pickaway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

List today pointed out that a Soil Bank base for each farm must be established before a 1958 Acreage Reserve Agreement can be signed. Soil Bank bases already established are to be used for 1958 agreements on spring-planted crops.

He advises farmers who plan to put land in the 1958 Acreage Reserve program to bring their farm records for 1956 and 1957 into the County ASC Office. They will be needed to set up the farm's Soil Bank base.

The Soil Bank base, roughly, is the average acreage of soil bank base crops grown on the farm for the past two years. Such crops include all those produced for harvest on the farm, except hay crops.

Business Briefs

Statistics released today by Ray J. Price, district manager of the Columbus office of Dun & Bradstreet, Inc. show that there are now 380 business firms in Pickaway County and 243 firms in Circleville.

The figures were obtained from a physical count of the Dun & Bradstreet Reference Book for November, 1957.

The Reference Book, incidentally, only lists manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers. It does not include some of the service and professional businesses, such as barber and beauty shops, stock and real estate brokers. Thus the figure for businesses in Pickaway County would actually be higher than the 380 quoted above.

Karl Mason, Mason Furniture, is in Chicago on his annual trip to the furniture market. He is expected to return Wednesday.

Chillicothe Driver Loses Court Case

The first jury trial held in the Pickaway County Common Pleas Court in 1958 brought in a conviction against Casel Wilson, Chillicothe, for driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Wilson was arrested by Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Duett Hoover on May 4, after he was involved in an accident. Wilson backed onto Route 22 from Route 227 on the eve of May 4, 1957 and was immediately struck by a truck from West Virginia, the officer reported.

Although the only eye witness, the truck driver, failed to appear, testimony by the attending physician and Deputy Hoover convinced the jury of Wilson's guilt. The jury debated 24 minutes before arriving at its conclusion.

Wilson was given the usual sentence for a first offense, $100 and costs, three days in the county jail and suspension of his driver's license for six months. Judge William Ammer was the presiding official.

State of U.S. Business Still Seen Confused

Employment, Price Fluctuations Add To Cross Currents

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen now have the president's views on the state of the union. But their own views on the state of business continues confused today — most agree that over-all it is declining but in some sectors it's looking up.

News of rehiring is mixed in with reports of more layoffs. Strength of some commodity prices tempers the news of weakness in others.

Retail sales gains in some lines offset dips in others. Prospects of new defense orders heartens some primary producers and the large number of supplier industries that service them. But other companies reports a slump in new orders.

Here are some of today's cross currents:

Chrysler announces it's laying off 4,000 workers in two of its auto making division. But it will add 4,000 to missile making plants.

United Auto Workers Union officials say that General Motors is idling 8,800 workers. Ford has reported cuts in employment. U.S. Rubber will idle 1,300.

Auto dealers' stocks are estimated at 740,000, which is 200,000 more cars than at the start of the year.

The plight of many railroads has been well aired of late. Overall employment in the rail industry has slipped below one million for the first time in 18 years.

Layoffs in steel have become commonplace. But Republic is calling off its plan to idle 1,500 in Alabama.

International Harvester reports its employment rolls are now 1,000 fatter than a month ago.

On the commodity front price weakness has reappeared in copper, zinc and lead continue on the weak side, as well as wool, coffee, tea and rubber.

But cocoa prices have been rising and there's firmness in sugar prices.

Crude oil prices, which rose during the Suez Canal crisis, are now threatened by high inventories, the dispute over imports, and the less than expected demand. Humble Oil & Refining has just cut the price of Southwest Texas crudes.

High inventories — and the efforts to trim them — have plagued many other industries.

Manufacturers' stocks at 534 billion dollars are still 1 1/2 billion higher than a year ago.

The retail front has suffered much less than the manufacturing one. The newly elected president of the National Retail Merchants Assn., George W. Dowdy, Charlotte, N. C., retailer, tells reporters that a dip of one or two percent in sales this spring is possible.

And he predicts profits won't fare so well and merchants will have a hard row to hoe.

The state of business? Take your choice.

Tallmadge Youth Loses Driver Rights

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Summit county boy is the first Ohio juvenile to lose his driver's license under a new state law.

He is Autry Thomas Ramey, 17, of Tallmadge, who was convicted twice in October of operating an auto with a loud muffler and again early in November on the same charge.

The new law provides automatic one-year suspension of a "junior probationary" license after conviction for three moving traffic violations.

Auto Licensing Changes Studied

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 12-man advisory committee has been named by Gov. C. William O'Neill to study possible changes in Ohio's system of issuing auto license plates and drivers' permits.

The changes are contained in a proposed 10-point program submitted by Alvin I. Krenzler, deputy registrar of Cleveland. Recommendations include an end to the existing fee system under which Krenzler reportedly receives more than $30,000 a year.

Clemency Pleas Are Filed For Slayers of Cincy Cop

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Pardons and Parole Commission Thursday heard clemency pleas for two Cincinnati men sentenced to die in the electric chair Jan. 23 for the slaying of Cincinnati detective Walter Hart.

The commission will make a report to Gov. C. William O'Neill who will decide whether Robert Jackson and Lemuel (Sam) Trotter should be granted executive clemency.

Hart was slain during the Sept. 19, 1955, holdup of the Grey Eagle cafe in Cincinnati. He and six other persons had been ordered into a wash room after they surrendered their wallets to holdup men.

Hart opened the door of the washroom and began firing. He was shot. Attorneys Albert A. Rogoff and Eugene Smith pleaded for Jackson. Smith said Jackson, a 41-year-old roofer, at all times maintained he did not know where he was going before the holdup and that Jackson was not in the cafe at the time.

"We feel that the man who did not fire the shot deserves clemency consideration," Smith said. Rogoff said Jackson was in a hallway 150 to 200 feet away from the cafe at the time because he was too intoxicated to take part in the holdup.

"He should be punished but not with the electric chair," Rogoff said. "All he did was give someone a gun and said do what you want to with it."

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hoover and one of his assistants, Melvin Rueger, told the commission there is no doubt but that Jackson furnished two guns for the holdup.

Dayton Hopes Newspapers to Publish Soon

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton today has hope that local newspapers will publish in the near future.

Dayton Newspapers, Inc., which has not published either of its two papers, the morning Journal Herald or the afternoon Daily News, since Dec. 20, settled its dispute with the International Mailers Union, Local 137, Thursday and went into negotiations with the Stereotype Union today.

The settlement of the mailers' strike came in a meeting Thursday Commissioner U. S. Young of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported. A two-year contract was signed later.

Robert A. Wolfe, executive vice president and general manager of the company, said:

"It is not possible at this time to say how soon the Journal Herald and the Daily News will be able to resume publication." He said all operations halted when the strike of 64 mailers began Dec. 20 and it will take some time to get the plant mechanically ready to turn out newspapers.

He also said there is still the contract with the Stereotype Union to be negotiated. He said earlier Thursday an agreement has been reached with the pressmen.

Raymond E. Brown, president of the mailers' local, said the two major issues in the dispute were a time-and-a-half provision between day and night shifts and the interchangeability of work between afternoon and morning newspapers.

He reported the new contract calls for time-and-a-half provision for all regular employees. Substitute employees will be permitted to work days and nights, not in the same 24-hour period, for straight time rates.

On the other major issue, Wolfe announced the union abandoned its demand for jurisdictional separation between day and night of work personnel between shifts.

The contract calls for a $4.50 a week pay increase for the first year and an additional $4 increase for the second year. They now receive $94 a week for day work; $98 nights.

to recommend clemency for the man who set this thing up, furnished the guns, and worked it so he wouldn't have to take the chances the others did," Hoover said. "Jackson planned the robbery and shared in the loot," he added.

Hoover said Jackson had a fair trial.

A third man in the holdup was Willie Barnett, who has been judged insane and is in the Lima State Hospital for the criminally insane.

Rogoff brought out that Hart was a well known and well-liked detective, which might have made it more difficult for Jackson, the first man to go on trial.

Detroit Youth Killed in Ohio Police Chase

BUCYRUS, Ohio (AP) — Pursued into this north central Ohio community by a highway patrolman who noted their high rate of speed, a Detroit youth was killed and another injured when the 1958 model sedan they were driving hit a tree Thursday night.

The car had been stolen in Detroit, the Highway Patrol said. They said the injured youth, believed to have been the driver, is being held at Bucyrus City Hospital while the matter "is checked out with Detroit police."

The injured youth was identified by patrolmen as David J. Cernance, 15, of Detroit. A patrolman who said Cernance is "ambulatory," added that it was "the worst wreck I ever saw anyone crawl out of alive."

The other occupant of the car, identified as John De Kun, 17, of Detroit, was killed.

Patrolman R. D. Clements, who spotted the car going east on U.S. 30 North at high speed, turned around and gave chase. The patrol said he slowed down as the chase took both cars inside the city limits here, but the car being chased continued at high speed, went off a curve and hit a tree. Clements did not know it was a stolen car at the time, the patrol added.

Deputies took her to a locksmith who made a key that freed Mrs. Tucker from her predicament.

4 Ohioans Give 'Lip Service' To Whiskies

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — It's a startling bit of information to come across, but there are men in Ohio who have access to vast quantities of whisky, who actually put the stuff in their mouths daily, but who never swallow it.

On the other hand, you might not want to drink it either if it had spiders and fleas in it.

Howard C. Prisk of Westerville is one of the men. He is chief chemist of the Ohio Department of Liquor Control and he and his three aides test liquors. None of them drinks.

What they do, says Prisk, is test by "rolling the liquid in the mouth," and then "spitting it out." Swallowing the stuff, Prisk says, cannot give a satisfactory taste test.

The work has its hazards. There was the Chinese whisky sent in by an importer who hoped to sell it in Ohio. It had little fleas and spiders in it. The importer had to find another market.

Prisk's laboratory runs periodic checks on all intoxicating beverages sold in Ohio. Some are sent in by the brewer or distiller, others are taken from store shelves.

The laboratory finds some queer things at times, Prisk says, from cod liver oil or quinine put in by a wife who wants her husband on the wagon, to just plain water put in by cheaters who drink part of the bottle then fill it up with water and return it. It's rare when any of the tricks work, Prisk says.

State of U.S. Business Still Seen Confused

Employment, Price Fluctuations Add To Cross Currents

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Businessmen now have the president's views on the state of the union. But their own views on the state of business continues confused today — most agree that over-all it is declining but in some sectors it's looking up.

News of rehiring is mixed in with reports of more layoffs. Strength of some commodity prices tempers the news of weakness in others.

Retail sales gains in some lines offset dips in others. Prospects of new defense orders heartens some primary producers and the large number of supplier industries that service them. But other companies reports a slump in new orders.

Here are some of today's cross currents:

Chrysler announces it's laying off 4,000 workers in two of its auto making divisions. But it will add 4,000 to missile making plants.

United Auto Workers Union officials say that General Motors is idling 8,800 workers. Ford has reported cuts in employment. U.S. Rubber will idle 1,300.

Auto dealers' stocks are estimated at 740,000, which is 200,000 more cars than at the start of the year.

The plight of many railroads has been well aired of late. Overall employment in the rail industry has slipped below one million for the first time in 18 years.

Layoffs in steel have become commonplace. But Republic is calling off its plan to idle 1,500 in Alabama.

International Harvester reports its employment rolls are now 1,000 fatter than a month ago.

On the commodity front price weakness has reappeared in copper. Zinc and lead continue on the weak side, as well as wool, coffee, tea and rubber.

But cocoa prices have been rising and there's firmness in sugar prices.

Crude oil prices, which rose during the Suez Canal crisis, are now threatened by high inventories, the dispute over imports, and the less than expected demand. Humble Oil & Refining has just cut the price of Southwest Texas crudes.

High inventories — and the efforts to trim them — have plagued many other industries.

Manufacturers' stocks at 53 1/2 billion dollars are still 1 1/2 billion higher than a year ago.

The retail front has suffered much less than the manufacturing one. The newly elected president of the National Retail Merchants Assn., George W. Dowdy, Charlotte, N. C., retailer, tells reporters that a dip of one or two percent in sales this spring is possible.

And he predicts profits won't fare so well and merchants will have a hard row to hoe.

The state of business? Take your choice.

Tallmadge Youth Loses Driver Rights

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Summit county boy is the first Ohio juvenile to lose his driver's license under a new state law.

He is Autry Thomas Ramey, 17, of Tallmadge, who was convicted twice in October of operating an auto with a loud muffler and again early in November on the same charge.

The new law provides automatic one-year suspension of a "junior probationary" license after conviction for three moving traffic violations.

Auto Licensing Changes Studied

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 12-man advisory committee has been named by Gov. C. William O'Neill to study possible changes in Ohio's system of issuing auto license plates and drivers' permits.

The changes are contained in a proposed 10-point program submitted by Alvin I. Krenzler, deputy registrar of Cleveland. Recommendations include an end to the existing fee system under which Krenzler reportedly receives more than $30,000 a year.

Clemency Pleas Are Filed For Slayers of Cincy Cop

COLUMBUS (AP) — The Ohio Pardons and Parole Commission Thursday heard clemency pleas for two Cincinnati men sentenced to die in the electric chair Jan. 23 for the slaying of Cincinnati detective Walter Hart.

The commission will make a report to Gov. C. William O'Neill who will decide whether Robert Jackson and Lemuel (Sam) Trotter should be granted executive clemency.

Hart was slain during the Sept. 19, 1955, holdup of the Grey Eagle cafe in Cincinnati. He and six other persons had been ordered into a wash room after they surrendered their wallets to holdup men.

Hart opened the door of the washroom and began firing. He was shot. Attorneys Albert A. Rogoff and Eugene Smith pleaded for Jackson. Smith said Jackson, a 41-year-old roofer, at all times maintained he did not know where he was going before the holdup and that Jackson was not in the cafe at the time.

"We feel that the man who did not fire the shot deserves clemency consideration," Smith said.

Rogoff said Jackson was in a hallway 150 to 200 feet away from the cafe at the time because he was too intoxicated to take part in the holdup.

"He should be punished but not with the electric chair," Rogoff said. "All he did was give someone a gun and said do what you want to with it."

Hamilton County Prosecutor C. Watson Hoover and one of his assistants, Melvin Rueger, told the commission there is no doubt but that Jackson furnished two guns for the holdup.

Dayton Hopes Newspapers to Publish Soon

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Dayton today has hope that local newspapers will publish in the near future.

Dayton Newspapers, Inc., which has not published either of its two papers, the morning Journal Herald or the afternoon Daily News, since Dec. 20, settled its dispute with the International Mailers Union, Local 137, Thursday and went into negotiations with the Stereotype Union today.

The settlement of the mailers' strike came in a meeting Thursday Commissioner U. S. Young of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service reported. A two-year contract was signed later.

Robert A. Wolfe, executive vice president and general manager of the company, said:

"It is not possible at this time to say how soon the Journal Herald and the Daily News will be able to resume publication."

He said all operations halted when the strike of 64 mailers began Dec. 20 and it will take some time to get the plant mechanically ready to turn out newspapers.

He also said there is still the contract with the Stereotype Union to be negotiated. He said earlier Thursday an agreement has been reached with the pressmen.

Raymond E. Brown, president of the mailers' local, said the two major issues in the dispute were a time-and-a-half provision between day and night shifts and the interchangeability of work between afternoon and morning newspapers.

He reported the new contract calls for time-and-a-half provision for all regular employees. Substitute employees will be permitted to work days and nights, not in the same 24-hour period, for straight time rates.

On the other major issue, Wolfe announced the union abandoned its demand for jurisdictional separation between day and night of work personnel between shifts.

The contract calls for a $4.50 a week pay increase for the first year and an additional $4 increase for the second year. They now receive $94 a week for day work; $98 nights.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: The stupidity of some people's kids! At the moment I refer to Mr. U. P., your recent correspondent who snidely objects to his wife's attending AA meetings, even though they've kept her dry for 14 months. (He fears for his social standing if the neighbors find out.)

How in the name of all that's holy can a man resent or object to any godly fellowship that has what-it-takes to keep a person sober? This fellow says his wife stayed drunk most of the time until she discovered AA—and hasn't fallen off the wagon since.

An alcoholic myself of six years' experience, I've known all the despair and remorse that she's been through.

"All she needs is more will power," says Mr. U. P. Will power my eye. An alcoholic has more will power than almost any person living. Just let him run out of something to drink and you'll see how much will power he has! He will find something to drink; you can bet your all on that.

Disease it definitely is; and has been so proclaimed by medical personnel and welfare workers the world over.

Believe me, Mr. U. P., it would be wonderful if you would visit and study the AA program, and understand it, and give it support in helping your wife. It would make you acquainted with God's spirit working in mankind (as love and forgiveness); and would lift you out of fear of "what people may think"—when what they think can't help you one bit.

A. A. DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Mr. U. P.'s bristling letter, about his wife's claim that she needs to attend AA meetings, may well contain the tipoff as to why she became an alcoholic in the first place.

So far as his reputation is concerned, one thing seems certain: He must have a reputation for being a cold indifferent hypocrite. How can he imagine that he has escaped the reputation of being married to an alcoholic? This is exactly the sort of thing people gossip about.

Except in the minds of persons as inhumane as he so vividly shows himself to be, he could only gain respect by helping his wife reclaim sobriety. May God protect her; but living with U. P. certainly adds greatly to her trials.

E. D. DEAR E.D.: I confess my first impulse was to read the riot act to Mr. U. P., as concerns his stupidly upstage attitude towards his wife's discovery of AA and all that it can do for her.

But on second thought I asked myself: What's the use of belaboring a man for his ignorance? If he knew better, doubtless he would do better. Therefore I gave him a briefing about the tremendous current of spiritual power with which his wife has allied herself, and how it works. I hope I put the picture across.

M. H. Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

This Is New Golden Age

It may sound highly unlikely to many persons in this time of sputniks and nervous breakdowns, but mankind may be living in one of the "golden ages" of history.

That is the opinion expressed by Dr. Caryl P. Haskin, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, in his annual report.

Dr. Haskin stresses that none of the golden ages of the past, when the human race made its greatest advances, was especially happy for persons living at the time. Such were the age of Pericles in Greece, of the Renaissance in Italy and of Elizabethan England.

"All of these ages in common," Dr. Haskin says, "were times of fervent intellectual excitement when major new creations and new experiences were just coming to wide notice and were on the threshold of general acceptance. . . . We hear our own age criticized as static and anti-intellectual often enough. Perhaps we ourselves are the restless, insecure, anxious, vital participants in an era of intellectual development that other men, sometime, somewhere, will look back upon as golden".

This is an age when, despite its total wars, man began talking of universal peace. It is a century when men no longer accepted as inevitable the scourges of hunger and disease.

And this era, too, sees freedom locked in a death struggle with a terrible tyranny. If civilization survives, this will rank as one of the most crucial centuries of all time—and perhaps even as "a golden age."

Wild West Has Gone Mild

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—What are they doing to the wild, Wild West and that saddle-sore hero of yore—the American cowboy?

In both the movies and television this emblem of American masculinity has fallen upon sad times. One who knew him in his prime has a hankering, now and then, to see him climb aboard old Pinto for the last time, turn and wave farewell, and canter off into oblivion.

What am I so peeved about? Well, I'll tell you, pardner. I'm plumb spirit-fractured about how they have watered down the good old-fashioned horse opera, and turned the cowboy, the sheriff and the U.S. marshal into little Lord Fauntleroy in smoky robes.

The horse opera in its original form was one of the simplest and most satisfying art mediums ever devised. The villain reeked of evil, the heroic cowboy reeked of dust and sweat. He gunned down the bad man, virtue triumphed, and everybody left the theater feeling he had got his dime's worth, which is what it cost to go to a movie in those days.

But today you can pay $1.50, and instead of Zane Grey or Max

Brand, you get two hours of Sigmond Freud—in color. You are left to mull over whether the sheriff shot the bad man because of an Oedipus complex, and whether the bad man really was bad or just a crazy kid with a mixed up lid.

Shades of William S. Hart, the pattern of all movie cowboys! Since he, Harry Carey, Hoot Gibson and Tom Mix passed from the screen, the movie cowboy has gone nowhere but downhill. Pardner, those galoots were real hairy-chested buxos. They looked like cowboys. They wore bandanas, leather arm cuffs, and leather or sheepskin chaps—the same clothes the honest working cowboy once wore. They hung out in saloons when they weren't out on the range, and they weren't afraid to belly up to the bar and belt down four fingers of bourbon, the breakfast of champions.

But today? The cowboy has been prettified beyond belief. He relies on his guitar as much as his gun. Except for his sombrero and six-shooter, he is dressed like Ivy League—who wants to wear those itchy old chaps any more?

The movie cowboy now avoids those nasty old saloons as much as possible. He leaves for Eagle Pass from a cozy restaurant, where he takes more coffee breaks than a stenographer. Instead of dance hall dames, whose morals at least were never questionable, your modern horse opera is populated by lacy school teachers, beautiful young cafe waitresses, and other would-be pioneer mothers.

On television, with a few exceptions such as "Gunsmoke," the horse opera is even more sickeningly sterile. Instead of going "bang!" the guns go "ping?" Yes, the sound even has a question mark behind it, like this—"ping? ping? ping?"

Of course, on TV the model modern law feller tries to avoid a showdown. Any night now I expect to see the hero tell the bad man: "Drop that gun, son. Why not go along with me and see my psychiatrist? He'll show you how to get rid of those aggressive impulses. Look what he did for me."

Yep, the wild, Wild West is getting mild, mild, mild. You take the frontier, pardner. I'm adding up and going back to Mother Goose, where the tales are rougher but more satisfying.

Communist Threat Not New

By George Sokolsky

I was recently clearing out some old papers to make room for new ones when I came across a letter written by a physician on March 4, 1942. It is not necessary to give the writer's name, as he has undoubtedly by now changed his mind. The doctor wrote:

"... In this article Mr. Sokolsky, in commenting on Stalin's recent speech, makes certain statements which, no matter how innocently intended are nevertheless grossly misleading and if permitted to go unchallenged, may impair a much needed unity among the Allies now fighting the Axis Powers."

The doctor was complaining about a piece I wrote on March 2, 1942 stating that Stalin was not then an ally of the United States in a very perilous situation, but that he was playing strictly his own game, which, of course, we now all know that he was doing.

All of this is over the dam and it can mean little to me to have been proved right or wrong in 1942. Few of us are so prophetic that we can foresee the future or so analytical that we never err. It seems to be the special province of the gossip columnists to quarrel over which one first said that the marriage between Mabel Pugh and Jack Blowhard is not taking. But in the less important affairs, such as, for instance, the rise of a new empire, the shifting of continents may influence the course of events and change the tides of history.

Therefore historic calculations must always be made within margins of uncertainty. However there are guides and anyone who had read history and political and social history since 1848 might have been expected to recognize in 1942 that Stalin could not be a true ally of the United States and Great Britain; that in pursuit of the world revolution, he could accept the aid of the capitalist countries, but that from the standpoint both of historic determinism and self-interest, he would ultimately have to pull away from this alliance and go his own way.

This has proved to be true and today, Soviet Russia and its satellites are enemies of the United States, working for our destruction and doing it very well.

The historic tragedy has been that Americans, on the whole, illiterate in Marxist literature, but full of the broad humanism of the Bible and the ethical and moral ideas which emanate from the Judeo-Christian religions, rejected too early the warnings against Russia; they rejected them because it was impossible even for some of our most clever men to detect the miserable nature of this enemy. It was for this reason that the OSS, for instance, was so viciously infiltrated by Communists. Certainly no one in his senses would think, for a moment, that Gen. "Wild Bill" Donovan could be insensitive to the dangers of Communism, but the fact remains that whereas such an organization as the

Interim Governor's Mother Is Dead

COLUMBUS (AP)—Mrs. Daisy Foster Brown, mother of former interim Gov. John W. Brown of Medina, died Thursday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. William F. Hetzel, in Decatur, Ga.

Besides her son and daughter she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. B. Daily of Stelacomb, Wash., and Mrs. Elizabeth Humphrey of Corona, Calif.

The body will be at the Sheridan Funeral Home in Lancaster on Saturday and burial will be from the Jagers and Sons Funeral Home in Athens Sunday. She was a former Athens resident.

OSS should have been staffed entirely, from bottom to top, by dedicated Americans, Congressional investigations of Communists, fellow-travelers and spies, bringing to the fore increasing numbers of former OSS personnel. The same is true of the OWI. In the amalgamation of our espionage and intelligence activities into the CIA headed by Allen Dulles, a man of remarkable knowledge and capacity, it was believed that a way had been found to eliminate the dangers of wrong personnel and failure to recognize the unusual tactics of the Russians. It is very doubtful, from the results, that CIA has achieved its goal and the reason is not far to seek.

The difference in mentality among peoples is not accidental; it is the entire history of civilization. It is the difference in thought between Genghis Khan and St. Francis of Assisi. It is the mixture of Mongolian and Tatar peoples which developed the force and character of the present Russian type.

And so we went soft and underestimated and misunderstood who the true enemy was and is. Therefore, in 1958, we find ourselves pouring our wealth into West Germany, Austria, Italy and Japan which we tried to destroy and impoverishing ourselves in preparation for what looks as though it might be the most devastating war in history—the war between the United States and Soviet Russia and her satellites, including Red China.

THERE ARE COUNTLESS stories about Joe Frisco, the stut-tering individualist who made a fortune starring in night clubs, and lost it all at various race tracks. One of them concerns the day Bing Crosby found Frisco sadly staring into space at a coffee stand in Palm Springs. "What's the matter now?" inquired Bing.

"It's that t-t-third race I'm t-t-thinking about," said Frisco. "I only put $10 on Royal Tiger. I s-s-shoulda put down f-f-fifty."

"Did it win by much?" Crosby asked. "It didn't w-w-win at all," admitted Frisco. "B-b-but it almost did!"

"I'm glad you're going out with Willie," a U.C.L.A. senior told her roommate. "You'll find him a gentleman from the word go." The roommate returned some hours later, somewhat upset. "You had Willie just a bit wrong," she reported. "He turned out to be a gentleman from the word stop."

Make Up 'Misses' at Dinner

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

You've had a busy day at the office. And despite all my urging to relax, many of you are still weary at the end of your working hours.

So relax once more en route home. Again, you can read or doze but take these precious few minutes on the train or bus to forget your worries and take things easy.

When you arrive home, it's a good idea to lie down and take a nap, or at least rest for 15 or 20 minutes, before eating dinner. This will give your stomach a chance to become unknotted.

Whether you plan to stay home for the evening or to go out, make sure you eat a good dinner.

What should you eat? Well, that's very simple to answer. Each day you should get your seven basic foods in the proper amount. What you don't eat for breakfast or lunch should be made up at dinner time. These basic foods are:

Milk—An adult needs at least two glasses a day. It may be taken by drinking it, mixing it with other foods, or in ice cream and cheese.

Fruits—Two or more servings daily. Take at least one raw fruit and citrus fruits or a tomato each day.

Vegetables—Two or more servings each day (don't count potatoes); one green or yellow, either raw in a salad or lightly cooked. Serve vegetable "greens" often.

Eggs—About four or five eggs a week or one a day, whichever you prefer.

Meat, fish, poultry and cheese—At least one serving daily. Occasionally have dried beans, peas and peanuts.

Bread and cereal—Have two or more servings each day. Make sure they are whole grain or enriched. Milk, remember, improves their nutritional values, so have as much milk with your cereal as you desire.

Butter—About two tablespoons daily. Slightly more, if you wish. Just a word or two about exercise.

You know what they say about all work and no play. Well, to live a really healthy day, you must have some exercise.

Walking to and from the railroad station or bus stop helps, of course. But at least once or twice a week spend a few hours bowling, swimming, golfing, skating, playing tennis—whatever you prefer.

And don't overlook dancing. Not only is dancing romantic, it's healthful, too.

WASHINGTON (AP)—What counts in connection with President Eisenhower's warmly received State of the Union message to Congress—is what he and Congress do for the rest of 1958 to back up what he proposed.

This is for sure: there will be intense arguments this year over whether Eisenhower is doing the right things, or enough of them, to keep abreast of Russia or to try to get ahead. The arguments have already begun.

As they unfold, the most puzzled man in America will be the average citizen to whom rockets, missiles, satellites, electronic engineering and research on space flights are still a mystery.

He'll be in poor position to judge who's right if Eisenhower proposes 500 million dollars for research on some out-of-the-world problem and his critics protest that at least twice as much is needed.

It will be years—probably after he's left the White House—before the wisdom of what Eisenhower proposes and Congress does this year can at last be tested against the accomplishments of the Russians.

Eisenhower showed awareness of the need for strenuous effort in the contest with Russia. He offered no alibi because the kind of effort he calls for now wasn't made before.

But the message was only a statement of problems in general terms, a document of intentions. In the coming months Eisenhower will have to offer specific proposals to Congress.

As a sign of conflict to come, even before he began talking, three high-ranking generals had found fault either with what Eisenhower has already begun to do or what he plans to do to build American defenses.

And the Democratic leader of the Senate, Lyndon Johnson of Texas, in a most unusual talk to the Democratic senators Tuesday made it clear, without saying it in so many words, that the Democrats will do the leading if Eisenhower doesn't.

The three critical military men were Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of Army research and development; Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff; and Maj. Gen. Bernard A. Schriever, director of the Air Force's ballistic missile program.

All three testified this week before the Senate subcommittee on preparedness—headed by Johnson—which is investigating various phases of defense.

Gavin was so angry about what Eisenhower plans to do for Army research—not enough, he said—that he decided to retire. He said the Army is deteriorating steadily.

White testified the administration was not providing enough funds—in the budget Eisenhower will offer Congress Monday—for the Air Force, that it was not getting enough bombers to serve until there were enough missiles, and he even criticized the progress being made on intercontinental missiles.

And Johnson—who told newsmen what Gavin and White said to his committee—reported he thought some of the missile programs should be speeded up.

For Eisenhower 1958 does not look like a year of easy sailing.

Mystery Shooting Takes Second Life

CLEVELAND (AP)—A mysterious shooting at a bus stop Monday night resulted in a second death early today.

Miss Delores Felton, 21, died at St. Alexis Hospital shortly after midnight. Alfred Johnson, 27, died of gunshot wounds at Polyclinic Hospital Wednesday.

Detectives, who could give no motive for the slaying, said a man ran up to the bus stop where the couple were standing, emptied a revolver at them and then fled.

This Is New Golden Age

It may sound highly unlikely to many persons in this time of sputniks and nervous breakdowns, but mankind may be living in one of the "golden ages" of history.

That is the opinion expressed by Dr. Caryl P. Haskin, president of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, in his annual report.

Dr. Haskin stresses that none of the golden ages of the past, when the human race made its greatest advances, was especially happy for persons living at the time. Such were the age of Pericles in Greece, of the Renaissance in Italy and of Elizabethan England.

"All of these ages in common," Dr. Haskin says, "were times of fervent intellectual excitement when major new creations and new experiences were just coming to wide notice and were on the threshold of general acceptance. . . . We hear our own age criticized as static and anti-intellectual often enough. Perhaps we ourselves are the restless, insecure, anxious, vital participants in an era of intellectual development that other men, sometime, somewhere, will look back upon as golden."

This is an age when, despite its total wars, man began talking of universal peace. It is a century when men no longer accepted as inevitable the scourges of hunger and disease.

And this era, too, sees freedom locked in a death struggle with a terrible tyranny. If civilization survives, this will rank as one of the most crucial centuries of all time—and perhaps even as "a golden age."

Source of the Church's Power

THE HOLY GHOST BROUGHT THE APOSTLES POWER, AS CHRIST PROMISED

Scripture—John 16:13; Acts 1:1-14; 2:1-41.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IN LAST WEEK'S lesson we learned of the promise of Christ that He would establish and build His church. In today's study we are told of the church's establishment by the power of the Holy Spirit. The lesson assigned today is taken from the Gospels of John and Acts, but they both concern the bestowal of the Holy Spirit on the church.

Much of the Gospel of John tells of the events of the last 24 hours of Holy Week. Jesus warns His disciples that they will be persecuted, thrown out of synagogues and killed by those who "will think that they doth God a service." He asks them to remember His words when He is no longer with them, but that He must go from them because otherwise the Comforter (the Holy Spirit) will not come.

Christ's words make His followers very sad, notwithstanding that He promised to send the Comforter to them, and that when they saw Him taken up, "and a cloud received Him out of their sight." As they gazed upward, two men in white appeared and told them not to grieve up into heaven, for as Christ went up, "so come in like manner as ye have seen Him go into heaven."

The apostles returned to Jerusalem and went into an upper room to await the coming of the Holy Spirit. "These all continued with one accord in prayer and supplication, with the women, and Mary the mother of Jesus, and with His brethren."

This is the last time we read of Mary, Christ's mother, taking part in any of the church activities. "And when the day of Pentecost was fully come, they were all with one accord in one place." Pentecost is the Greek word meaning fiftieth, referring to the 50th day after the Passover. "And suddenly there came a sound from heaven as of a rushing mighty wind, and it filled all the house where they were sitting."

Cloven tongues like fire but not burning, descended on each of them. All were filled with the Holy Ghost and "began to speak with other tongues."

Now there were men of foreign birth in Jerusalem; imagine their amazement when these apostles began to speak to each in his own language! The word spread and many marvelled, but some declared that the apostles were drunk from wine.

Paul stood up with the 11 and defended them, saying they were not drunk but had received power from heaven.

We have not space to print Peter's noble sermon, but he frightened the people so that they asked him what they should do. Peter told them to be baptized in the name of Jesus Christ, and about 3,000 souls were baptized that day. The teachers should study Peter's words and interpret them to their classes.

"Ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."—Acts 1:8.

"The Spirit of truth is come. He will guide you into all truth." After the resurrection and before His ascension, Jesus "assembled together with them" (the apostles) and commanded them that they should not leave Jerusalem but "wait for the promise of the Father, which . . . ye have heard of Me."

"For John truly baptized with water; but ye shall be baptized with the Holy Ghost not many days hence." They asked Him if He would restore again the kingdom of Israel. He told them it was not for them to know the times or the seasons, which the Father hath put in His own power.

"But ye shall receive power, after that the Holy Ghost is come upon you; and ye shall be witnesses unto Me both in Jerusalem, and in all Judea, and in Samaria, and unto the uttermost part of the earth."

Kefauver's Yule Mail List Totals about 40,000 Names

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver remembered some of the folks with whom he shook hands across the country during his unsuccessful bid for the vice presidency in 1956. At least 40,000 of them received his holiday greetings this year.

If you didn't receive one of his Christmas cards, which took the full time of two women clerks to address, you might be interested to know the attractive Tennessee winter scene on the cover was painted by his talented artist wife, Nancy. Inside the card was a photograph of the senator and Nancy and their children.

Up until this year's onslaught by the Tennesseean, the record congressional load on the poor postman was sent by former Sen. George H. Bender (R-Ohio), now assistant to Secretary of the Interior Fred Seaton.

"Well, I really don't know why Estes thinks he has to send out so many," Bender observed when told of the Kefauver posting. "There are about five times more people in Ohio than there are in Tennessee."

By the way, did any of you get those rosy-cheeked apples from

Sen. Harry Byrd (D - Va) this year?

Frau Angelina von Weech of Munich, Germany, here after a coast-to-coast bus tour, boasts the venerable age of 75, though she looks at least 20 years younger.

Still an active member of the Munich German-American Women's Club, of which she was a former president, Frau von Weech said with lusty warmth:

"I make pleasure of it—I don't want to be a youngster. Working's what does it. I don't have time to worry."

The handsome, dark-haired woman, who came to the United States to enter her granddaughter in school in New York state, runs her own hand-weaving factory outside Munich.

Mrs. von Weech lost a son in World War II, but told newsmen here she was able to make lasting friendships with American army wives through the club started 10 years ago to foster understanding.

"It was easy for the women to get together," she said, adding a quote from the Greek tragedy "Antigone": "Women are made to love and not to hate. We've all been very fond of each other."

Her tour of this country began in August 1957. She said it was to renew old friendships. She said she had visited in the homes of about 35 of her former club sisters who have since returned from Germany where their husbands had been stationed.

Painesville Fair Barn, 10 Horses Lost in Fire

PAINESVILLE (AP)—Fire destroyed a barn and 10 horses Thursday at the Lake County Fairgrounds at an estimated loss of $30,000.

Fire Chief C. Gordon Smith of Painesville said an overheated oil burner apparently had ignited straw in the barn. About 75 firemen fought the blaze and succeeded in saving a barn adjacent to the one that burned down.

Rue Bonne Foi, main street in Port-au-Prince, Haiti, means "Street of Good Faith." It is where all the main shops of the town are located.

Anna Bank Cashier Enters Guilty Plea

DAYTON (AP)—Archie Fridley, 68-year-old cashier at the Anna Farmers and Merchants Bank, pleaded guilty Thursday to making false entries in bank records over the past 17 years. The bank losses had totaled $28,651.

Fridley, an employee at the bank for nearly 30 years, was charged specifically with three counts of making false entries in bank records. FBI agents said they were unable to file embezzlement charges against Fridley because they could not prove he took the money for his own use.

Fridley's attorneys said he has made restitution of $27,552.

50 Artists Seek Job

COLUMBUS (AP)—The Ohio Historical Society said Thursday that about 50 artists have applied for the job of painting a mural of the Wright brothers to hang in the Statehouse here. The artist selected for the job will receive a $15,000 commission.

Marion Man Endorsed For $15,000 Post

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ohio House Republicans have endorsed Harry Brookshire, executive assistant to Postmaster General Summerfield, for the $15,000-a-year job as House minority clerk.

The group, meeting in caucus, chose Brookshire, of Marion, Ohio, over the only other active candidate for the job. That was D. Joe Bartlett, son-in-law of former Ohio Sen. George Bender. Bartlett is House minority reading clerk.

Exercise and Diet Keep Skaters, Slim and Pretty

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
King Features Syndicate

They're slim! They're trim! They're lovely! They have beauty and grace and make skating look deceptively easy.

We're talking about the girls who take to the ice in the latest edition of the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies. We watched them rehearse at New York's Madison Square Garden, where they're stopping from January 14th to 26th on their nationwide tour. We were definitely impressed!

They're beauties! Is this what skating does for a girl?

Not entirely, said the ice queens. Skating helps, but it's not enough. There's more to their beauty programs than figure eights.

All the girls admitted they counted calories like a miser does gold.

"An extra pound really shows up in a brief skating costume," confessed one.

They all exercise, too. There's not much time for outdoor sports between rehearsals and shows, but the girls do setting-up exercises, especially those that keep hips flat and waistlines whittled.

Here are a few of the routines they favor:

1. Lie flat on the floor on your back, with arms stretched back on the floor over your head, feet together, legs straight out.
2. Stand tall and straight, left arm curved over your head, right arm resting on your thigh.
3. Lie flat on the floor. Raise legs straight in the air, supporting weight by grasping hipline with your hands.
4. Stand straight, hand on a chair for support.

Swing your outer leg to the side, then swing it forward. Make a curving movement toward side and rear. Do five to ten times, then reverse leg.

There are other exercises you can try, of course, but the four given above are favorites of the Ice Follies skaters. The girls have other beauty tips, too.

Want to look bright and radiant all the time?

First, be sure to eat the proper foods.

Second, take care you get enough sleep.

Fatigue is a big enemy in show business. The Follies skaters, for example, rehearse afternoons. Evenings, the show is on, and by the time they take a final bow, it's 11 p. m.

Do they go home? Not at all they stay around the rink and practice new routines until the lights go out, maybe midnight or 1 a. m.

But—and this is important—they sleep late mornings and squeeze in a nap before show time. It's the nap that freshens them up, makes them look bright-eyed and beautiful for each performance.

Nap-taking's a trick more women should try, especially when a late evening engagement is coming up. Just half an hour snooze-time and you're ready to go gayly on, and on, and on for hours.

6 The Circleville Herald, Friday, January 10, 1958
Circleville, Ohio

Mrs. Whitmore Has Presbyterian Group D Wed.

Mrs. Harold Whitmore, Atwater Ave. was hostess to evening Group D of First Presbyterian Church Wednesday with the retiring chair-Miss Jo Ann Brink in charge of the old business.

Miss Brink then turned the meeting over to the incoming chairman, Mrs. Whitmore who appointed the following new committees: Program, Mrs. Odell Baker and Mrs. Phillip Hines; World Service, Miss Katharine Bockart, and Miss Carol Winters; Fellowship, Miss Elizabeth Stevenson and Mrs. Thomas Houghton and Publicity, Miss Brink and Mrs. Baker.

Pledge cards were suggested as a means of obtaining funds. Mrs. Whitmore introduced Mrs. Ed Grigg, the program chairman of the Women's Assn. of First Presbyterian Church who presented valuable information on how to plan programs which are enjoyed. Among the many books which may be used as study material program are: "The Yearbook of Prayer", a book containing the names of various missionaries for whom members are asked to pray; "Conversations on Christ, Church and the Race"; "Meet Dr. Luke".

The booklet "Meet Dr. Luke" will be the main book of study.

Miss Daisy Karleskint was guest for the evening.

Mrs. Whitmore served refreshments.

New officers are Mrs. Harold Whitmore and Mrs. Odell Baker, co-chairman; Mrs. Doyle Painter, secretary and Mrs. Charles Hart, treasurer.

Ice Skating Parties Popular Now

Ice skating parties have been popping out all over the county during the week's cold spell. Last Saturday Miss Carol Teegardin entertained with one at the farm pond just north of her parents home Route 1 Ashville.

The skaters warmed themselves at a big bonfire and after several hours of skating were invited by the Teegardins to their home for hot chocolate and cake.

Skaters included Miss Teegardin, Katherine Cromley, Judy Fischer, Rosalie Wheeler, Mary Jo Bowers, Judy Bowers, Judy Hosler, Bob Wright, Don Hedges, Ned Rader, Walter Sieverts and Marvin Spangler.

The Youth Fellowship of the Ashville Evangelical United Brethren Church held a skating party on the Harley Hines farm pond Sunday night. This pond encompasses 20 acres and was reported an excellent place for skating. Fellowship members brought guests. The Rev. and Mrs. Carl Groff were among those enjoying the skating party. A similar party was held at the pond Tuesday evening.

The Pickaway Country Club pond was used Sunday by ice skating enthusiasts among the membership.

Carlton young people are finding the Gilbert Hedges pond a fine place for skating. A skating party is being planned there for tonight.

Don't Let Your Voice Keep You From Success

By ANNE HEYWOOD
(King Features Syndicate)

"There are no walk-on parts in the drama of life. All the roles we play are speaking parts."

That's what Dorothy Uris thinks, and I'm inclined to agree.

Several years ago I wrote about Dorothy, who was just beginning her work as a voice teacher and had opened a studio in New York. She had chosen an overcrowded field, one in which you have to be awfully good to survive—especially in New York. And Dorothy has survived, and then some!

Here are a few things she has done, and is doing, in the handful of years since I first wrote about her.

She teaches sixty students a month at a school for airlines stewardesses; gives a speech course at a college of music, to instrumentalists and future music teachers; instructs singers at the Metropolitan Opera House in the art of singing English.

At her own studio, she gives private lessons to a cancer specialist, a mucicologist, a lady who reads to the blind, a foreign diplomat, a British actress who wants to speak American, and a teen-ager whose mother can't stand her twang any longer!

Dorothy believes that the way you sound is every bit as important to glamour as the way you look, and maybe more so! When you embark on a self-improvement routine, she urges you to think about your voice as well as your skin.

It's true vocationally, too.

Many times when the employer says "college degree" he really means, "college type." He doesn't need the specific degree, he just wants you to be a cultured person. If your voice is well-modulated and cultivated, you give the impression of college, whether you actually went or not!

The first step is actually to become aware of your voice.

When you really listen, you may hear sounds that will surprise you.

VOICE RECORDER — A recording of your voice often reveals surprising flaws. It will pay to listen to a recording of your own voice.

You'll begin to make an effort to eliminate some of those tones, to stop dropping your gs and to start enunciating more clearly.

Then, if you can possibly afford it, try to get some lessons in speech. Many adult education programs have such courses for free or for a very small fee. Many universities give them.

At any rate, do remember that the way you sound has almost as much effect on your total impression as the way you look!

Ashville Women's Club Hears Talk On Liberia

Fred L. Helm, planter, traveler and a member of the Public Relations Department of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, O., was the guest speaker when the Women's Civic Club of Ashville held its January meeting.

Mrs. Lowell Cooper introduced Helm, who gave an interesting and instructive talk with slides on his 20 years spent in Liberia, West Africa.

As Divisional Superintendent, Manager of the Labor Department and Recruiter of Laborers, Helm had dealings with many Liberian government officials, native chiefs and thousands of native workers. He was one of the first American planters to work there when the Firestone rubber plantations were started in 1925. He told of the political, economic and cultural growth of Liberia during that time.

Devotional leader, Mrs. Fred Engle, read a poem, "Thoughts After a Snowfall on New Year's Eve," by Ida James and commented on the pathway that lies ahead in the new year.

Club president, Mrs. Felix Dore, reported on the "Golden Age" Tea sponsored by the club, December 28.

HEIDI PLYESS, ICE FOLLIES SKATER — It takes a little stretching to do this toe-touch says Heidi. But try it a few times and you will soon be able to manage the exercise easily.

SIDE BEND — Judy Lawrence demonstrates the side bend, a splendid waistline whittler. "A good way," she says, to take off several inches.

MARLENE BIRRELL — This skater demonstrates a good hip and leg trimmer. The bicycle exercise is a favorite of hers.

Exercise and Diet Keep Skaters, Slim and Pretty

By JOAN O'SULLIVAN
King Features Syndicate

They're slim! They're trim! They're lovely! They have beauty and grace and make skating look deceptively easy.

We're talking about the girls who take to the ice in the latest edition of the Shipstads and Johnson Ice Follies. We watched them rehearse at New York's Madison Square Garden, where they're stopping from January 14th to 26th on their nationwide tour. We were definitely impressed!

They're beauties! Is this what skating does for a girl?

Not entirely, said the ice queens. Skating helps, but it's not enough. There's more to their beauty programs than figure eights.

All the girls admitted they counted calories like a miser does gold.

"An extra pound really shows up in a brief skating costume," confessed one.

They all exercise, too. There's not much time for outdoor sports between rehearsals and shows, but the girls do settling-up exercises, especially those that keep hips flat and waistslim whittled.

Here are a few of the routines they favor:

1. Lie flat on the floor on your back, with arms stretched back on the floor over your head, feet together, legs straight out.
2. Stand tall and straight, left arm curved over your head, right arm resting on your thigh.
3. Lie flat on the floor. Raise legs straight in the air, supporting weight by grasping hipline with your hands.
4. Stand straight, hand on a chair for support.

Swing your outer leg to the side, then swing it forward. Make a curving movement toward side and rear. Do five to ten times, then reverse leg.

There are other exercises you can try, of course, but the four given above are favorites of the Ice Follies skaters. The girls have other beauty tips, too.

Want to look bright and radiant all the time?

First, be sure to eat the proper foods.

Second, take care you get enough sleep.

Fatigue is a big enemy in show business. The Follies skaters, for example, rehearse afternoons. Evenings, the show is on, and by the time they take a final bow, it's 11 p. m.

Do they go home? Not at all they stay around the rink and practice new routines until the lights go out, maybe midnight or 1 a. m.

But—and this is important—they sleep late mornings and squeeze in a nap before show time. It's the nap that freshens them up, makes them look bright-eyed and beautiful for each performance.

Nap-taking's a trick more women should try, especially when a late evening engagement is coming up. Just half an hour snooze-time and you're ready to go gayly on, and on, and on for hours.

Ice Skating Parties Popular Now

Ice skating parties have been popping out all over the county during the week's cold spell. Last Saturday Miss Carol Teegardin entertained with one at the farm pond just north of her parents home Route 1 Ashville.

The skaters warmed themselves at a big bonfire and after several hours of skating were invited by the Teegardins to their home for hot chocolate and cake.

Skaters included Miss Teegardin, Katherine Cromley, Judy Fischer, Rosalie Wheeler, Mary Jo Bowers, Judy Bowers, Judy Hosler, Bob Wright, Don Hedges, Ned Rader, Walter Sieverts and Marvin Spangler.

The Youth Fellowship of the Ashville Evangelical United Brethren Church held a skating party on the Harley Hines farm pond Sunday night. This pond encompasses 20 acres and was reported an excellent place for skating. Fellowship members brought guests. The Rev. and Mrs. Carl Groff were among those enjoying the skating party. A similar party was held at the pond Tuesday evening.

The Pickaway Country Club pond was used Sunday by ice skating enthusiasts among the membership.

Carlton young people are finding the Gilbert Hedges pond a fine place for skating. A skating party is being planned there for tonight

Don't Let Your Voice Keep You From Success

By ANNE HEYWOOD
(King Features Syndicate)

"There are no walk-on parts in the drama of life. All the roles we play are speaking parts."

That's what Dorothy Uris thinks, and I'm inclined to agree.

Several years ago I wrote about Dorothy, who was just beginning her work as a voice teacher and had opened a studio in New York. She had chosen an overcrowded field, one in which you have to be awfully good to survive—especially in New York. And Dorothy has survived, and then some!

Here are a few things she has done, and is doing, in the handful of years since I first wrote about her.

She teaches sixty students a month at a school for airlines stewardesses; gives a speech course at a college of music, to instrumentalists and future music teachers; instructs singers at the Metropolitan Opera House in the art of singing English.

At her own studio, she gives private lessons to a cancer specialist, a musicologist, a lady who reads to the blind, a foreign diplomat, a British actress who wants to speak American, and a teen-ager whose mother can't stand her twang any longer!

Dorothy believes that the way you sound is every bit as important to glamour as the way you look, and maybe more so! When you embark on a self-improvement routine, she urges you to think about your voice as well as your skin.

It's true vocationally, too. Many times when the employer says "college degree" he really means, "college type." He doesn't need the specific degree, he just wants you to be a cultured person. If your voice is well-modulated and cultivated, you give the impression of college, whether you actually went or not!

The first step is actually to become aware of your voice.

When you really listen, you may hear sounds that will surprise you.

VOICE RECORDER — A recording of your voice often reveals surprising flaws. It will pay to listen to a recording of your own voice.

You'll begin to make an effort to eliminate some of those tones, to stop dropping your g's and to start enunciating more clearly.

Then, if you can possibly afford it, try to get some lessons in speech. Many adult education programs have such courses for free or for a very small fee. Many universities give them.

At any rate, do remember that the way you sound has almost as much effect on your total impression as the way you look!

Ashville Women's Club Hears Talk On Liberia

Fred L. Helm, planter, traveler and a member of the Public Relations Department of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, Akron, O., was the guest speaker when the Women's Civic Club of Ashville held its January meeting.

Mrs. Lowell Cooper introduced Helm, who gave an interesting and instructive talk with slides on his 20 years spent in Liberia, West Africa.

As Divisional Superintendent, Manager of the Labor Department and Recruiter of Laborers, Helm had dealings with many Liberian government officials, native chiefs and thousands of native workers. He was one of the first American planters to work there when the Firestone rubber plantations were started in 1925. He told of the political, economic and cultural growth of Liberia during that time.

Devotional leader, Mrs. Fred Engle, read a poem, "Thoughts After a Snowfall on New Year's Eve," by Ida James and commented on the pathway that lies ahead in the new year.

Club president, Mrs. Felix Dore, reported on the "Golden Age" Tea sponsored by the club, December 28.

Cincy Cager Is Lauded for Scoring Spree

Indiana-Born Star Dunks 56 Points as Seton Hall Is Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson, a hep Hoosier who scores points and shuns stardom, was the big man of college basketball today, the toast of even the usually hard-to-please New York critics.

The 6-foot-5 sophomore from Indianapolis scored 56 points as Cincinnati's barreling Bearcats whipped Seton Hall 118-54 Thursday night.

Oscar bettered the all-time record by a collegian in Madison Square Garden for total points and field goals—and was every bit as good a team man as he was a scorer.

The victory boosted the twice-beaten Bearcats, seventh in this week's Associated Press poll, into their ninth victory.

Third-ranked and once beaten North Carolina pulled away late in the game and defeated Virginia 82-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference scrap. The Tar Heels, now 11-1, was the only other top 10 team in action.

Robertson's production bettered Harry Boykoff's 54 points for St. John's against St. Francis in 1947 and topped by DePaul's all-time record set by DePaul's all-time great, George Mikan, with 21 against Rhode Island in 1945.

Robertson said he didn't know what or whose record he had broken until after being pulled from the game after a pair of free throws for his 55th and 56th points with 2:46 left.

His 56 points were nowhere near the national, major college record. Furman's Al America Frank Selvy scored 100 against Newberry in 1954. Nor did it push him past Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain in the season scoring race. Oscar now has scored 353 points for a 32.1 average. Wilt has a 32.2 average on 322 points in 10 games.

With Connie Dierking, out for four games with an injury, back in the lineup (he scored 19), and the rest of the Bearcats near their best, Oscar had to hustle and work for 35 minutes. Then with five minutes left and 46 points in the bag, his teammates started to feed him and Robertson took off, urged along by the crowd of 4,615.

Cincinnati's total also set a Garden record, bettering the one-team mark set at 116 by Bradley last season.

North Carolina got past Virginia with a 12-point spurt in the last three minutes that junked a close battle. Pete Brennan scored 29 points for the defending NCAA champs, who trailed 33-30 at the half.

Wake Forest blew a nine-point halftime lead, then got rolling again in the last 10 minutes for an 87-63 victory over South Carolina in another ACC game.

Xavier of Ohio defeated Iona 71-61 in the other half of the Garden twin bill.

Laurelville Area Leader

Laurelville with a .901 winning percentage in 10 victories against one defeat leads the area teams, followed by Centralia. The Bulldogs have a 9 and 3 record for a .750 percentage.

Amanda, Stoutsville and Kingston follow in order. Centralia holds the top team scoring average with 63.7 points per game with the Laurelville Indians closely behind with a 62-point average.

Laurelville holds the defensive lead containing its opposition to 50 points per game. Centralia is next with a 50.4 average. Four of the five teams have winning margins. Only Kingston, which not only battles opponents but the flu as four of its five starters have been out for at least a week with sickness, hasn't broken even with games.

The young puncher from Springfield, Ohio, weighing 128½, left an excellent impression with 5,000 fans at Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

ALMOST KAYOES HIMSELF—Johnny Busso, of Astoria, L. I., almost knocked himself out in his recent bout with Paolo Rossi. As you can see, Rossi's punch caught Busso's glove, which, in turn, flattened his nose and staggered him. Busso held on but lost the decision in a 10-round bout staged in New York. (International)

2 Cincinnati Cage Outfits Take Top Honors in Gotham

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Two Cincinnati basketball teams took all the honors in games Thursday night in New York's Madison Square Garden, but it was a transplanted Hoosier who really stole the spotlight.

A University of Cincinnati sophomore from Indianapolis, Oscar Robertson, turned on one of the greatest one-man collegiate scoring sprees in Garden history to almost single handedly defeat Seton Hall.

The Bearcats swamped the New Jersey team 118-54 and Robertson alone edged them 56-54.

The 6-5 flash received a standing ovation when he was taken out of the game after sinking two free throws with 2:45 remaining to bring his total to 56 points. He hit on 22 of 32 field goals and had 12 out of 12 free throws.

Xavier played in the first game of the doubleheader and dumped Iona of New York 71-61. The once-beaten Musketeers built up a commanding lead in the early minutes and then coasted home for their 10th victory.

Cincinnati's win, which also broke the collegiate Garden scoring record, was the Bearcats' ninth in 11 games.

Otterbein fought off a late game rally to post its first win of the season, 70-67 over Heidelberg in an Ohio Conference game. The Cardinals have been beaten four times, all by conference foes.

For Heidelberg it was their sixth defeat in seven games. They are 1-3 in the conference.

Oberlin was knocked from the ranks of the unbeaten in a non-conference game with Penn, 61-47. The Foxes led all the way in winning their second game in five starts.

Oberlin had a 4-0 mark going into the contest. They remained 2-0 in the Ohio Conference.

Rio Grande, which has not played a game in a month, lost its fourth game of the season. The Redmen went to Frankfort, Ky., and suffered a 74-58 setback from Kentucky State. They have won three times.

day night and a painful one with Mexico's featherweight titleholder, Victor Manuel Quijano, who weighed 128.

Moore, rated third in his division by the National Boxing Assn., stopped Quijano after 1:57 of the 9th round.

Bob Rosburg Sets Pace in Crosby Test

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. — Bob Rosburg, one of golf's great putters, headed into the rain-threatened second round of the $50,000 Bing Crosby Tournament today with a two-stroke lead and a tough course facing him.

Rosburg, sinking putts up to 30 feet, fashioned a 7-under-par 65 over the Monterey Peninsula Country Club layout as 280 entrants tackled two courses.

Bob goes over the second one, Cypress Point, for his second round and judging from opening scores there, he faces a tougher assignment. Eight of the nine tournament-leading scores were shot over Monterey, where the winds and rain didn't bother much.

Bo Wininger, Odessa, Tex., posted a 67 at Cypress, though, the same score as Tommy Bolt, Chattanooga, had at Monterey.

Indiana-Born Star Dunks 56 Points as Seton Hall Is Beaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Oscar Robertson, a hep Hoosier who scores points and shuns stardom, was the big man of college basketball today, the toast of even the usually hard-to-please New York critics.

The 6-foot-5 sophomore from Indianapolis scored 56 points as Cincinnati's barrelling Bearcats whipped Seton Hall 118-54 Thursday night.

Oscar bettered the all-time record by a collegian in Madison Square Garden for total points and field goals—and was every bit as good a team man as he was a scorer.

The victory boosted the twice-beaten Bearcats, seventh in this week's Associated Press poll, into their ninth victory.

Third-ranked and once beaten North Carolina defeated away late in the game and pulled Virginia 82-66 in an Atlantic Coast Conference scrap. The Tar Heels, now 11-1, was the only other top 10 team in action.

Robertson's production bettered Harry Boykoff's 54 points for St. John's against St. Francis in 1947 and topped by one the field goal record set by DePaul's all-time great, George Mikan, with 21 against Rhode Island in 1945.

Robertson said he didn't know what or whose record he had broken until after being pulled from the game after a pair of free throws for his 55th and 56th points with 2:46 left.

His 56 points were nowhere near the national, major college record. Furman's All America Frank Selvy scored 100 against Newberry in 1954. Nor did it push him past Kansas' Wilt Chamberlain in the season scoring race. Oscar now has scored 353 points for a 32.1 average. Wilt has a 32.2 average on 322 points in 10 games.

With Connie Dierking, out for four games with an injury, back in the lineup (he scored 19), and the rest of the Bearcats near their best, Oscar had to hustle and work for 35 minutes. Then with five minutes left and 46 points in the bag, his teammates started to feed him and Robertson took off, urged along by the crowd of 4,615.

Cincinnati's total also set a Garden record, bettering the one-team mark set at 116 by Bradley last season.

North Carolina got past Virginia with a 12-point spurt in the last three minutes that junked a close battle. Pete Brennan scored 29 points for the defending NCAA champs, who trailed 33-30 at the half.

Wake Forest blew a nine-point halftime lead, then got rolling again in the last 10 minutes for an 87-63 victory over South Carolina in another ACC game.

Xavier of Ohio defeated Iona 71-61 in the other half of the Garden twin bill.

Laurelville Area Leader

Laurelville with a .901 winning percentage in 10 victories against one defeat leads the area teams, followed by Centralia. The Bulldogs have a 9 and 3 record for a .750 percentage.

Amanda, Stoutsville and Kingston follow in order. Centralia holds the top team scoring average with 63.7 points per game with the Laurelville Indians closely behind with a 62-point average.

Laurelville holds the defensive lead containing its opposition to 50 points per game. Centralia is next with a 50.4 average. Four of the five teams have winning margins. Only Kingston, which not only battles opponents but the flu as four of its five starters have been out for at least a week with sickness, hasn't broken even with games.

Paul Brown Set, Gets Look At Draftees

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Saturday's ninth annual Senior Bowl game is made to order for South coach Paul Brown in at least one respect:

He'll get a comparative look at two quarterbacks he'll probably see a lot of later on. Both signal-callers have been drafted by his Cleveland Browns.

Brown has picked Arkansas' George Walker, a 1956 Cleveland draft choice, as his No. 1 quarter.

North coach Joe Kuharich, whose Washington Redskins have only two draftees in the ninth annual All-Star game as compared with five for the Browns, will use Michigan State's Jim Ninowski as his starting quarterback. Ninowski was Cleveland's fourth draft pick last fall.

One of the North's halfbacks will be Washington's top draft choice, Mike Sommer of George Washington. The other Redskins draftee is Tennessee's Bill Anderson, who will play safety for South.

The 50 college seniors taking part, 30 of whom have been drafted by pro clubs, turn professional in the game. Members of the winning squad receive $500 each, the losers $400.

NBC will televise the clash at 3 p. m., EST.

Ohioan Impressive In Ring Victory

LOS ANGELES (AP)—If stocky Davey Moore needed just one more impressive showing to get in line for a shot at the world featherweight title, his chances should look good today.

The young puncher from Springfield, Ohio, weighing 128½, left an excellent impression with 5,000 fans at Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Moore, rated third in his division by the National Boxing Assn., stopped Quijano after 1:57 of the 9th round.

COLUMBUS (AP)—Dick Schafath and Frank Kremblas are the 1958 Ohio State football team co-captains.

The announcement was made Thursday at the Agonis Club's championship dinner, honoring the Buckeyes' Big Ten championship and Rose Bowl victory. Team members picked the captains.

Schafath is a 208-pound tackle from Wooster, whom Coach Woody Hayes calls "the best defensive blocker in the country."

Ted Williams
Cops Top HonorBaseball Star Voted
'Male Athlete of '57'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams, king of the batters at the age of 39, today was named outstanding male athlete of the year for 1957 in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

It was the first time in his long, stormy and dramatic career that the tall Boston Red Sox slugger was chosen for the honor, one of the great prizes in sports.

The recognition came seven weeks after he was nosed out by Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees for the most valuable player award of the American League.

The selection by a committee of baseball writers kicked up a mighty storm because one writer picked Williams for ninth place and another named him tenth.

In the AP poll, Williams won by a whopping margin over Milwaukee pitcher Lew Burdette, the star of the World Series, with mid-dleweight champion Carmen Basilio a trailing third.

Mantle, winner of the AP's athlete of the year poll for 1956 and the American League's MVP for 1956 and 1957, finished in a tie for 13th this year with only one first place designation and 14 points.

Williams received 85 first place votes from the 214 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll, and 434 points. Points were counted on a basis of three for first, two for second and one for third.

Burdette, who hurled three complete, winning games to beat the Yankees in the series, collected 54 first placers and 226 points.

Basilio, who moved up from the welterweight championship to the middleweight throne by defeating Sugar Ray Robinson in a stirring battle, garnered 17 first place votes and 113 points.

Mantle received one first place nomination, two for second, and one third.

The Fraternal Order of Eagles—Frederick C. Miller Memorial Trophy, awarded to the winner of the AP poll, will be presented to Williams later this month.

SEA ISLAND, Ga. — The queens of the nation's golf links teed off their 1958 tour today with first round play in the fifth annual Sea Island Invitational tourney.

Rated the players to bat were young Mickey Wright, the defending champion, and veteran Patty Berg, who would like to add the title to her long list of victories.

Miss Wright, a 22-year-old blonde from San Diego, Calif., won the event last year with a record 220 for the 54-holes of stroke play over the 6,173-yard Sea Island Golf Club course.

Miss Wright, of St. Andrews, Ill., finished third, four strokes behind, but wound up 1957 as the leading money winner of the Ladies Professional Golfers' Assn.

Canadian Coach Named To Head Chicago Cards

CHICAGO (AP)—Now that the Chicago Cardinals have plucked 41-year-old Frank Ivy from the Canadian Football League as their 19th coach, the question is: Can Ivy revive the cellar-dwelling Cards into a contender in the National Football League?

Ivy, who was appointed coach Thursday night succeeding the resigned Ray Richards, faces a stiff challenge—a challenge that has seen eight Card coaches shuffled out in the last 10 years.

Dial Phone System Here Due In October, Rotarians Told

Clare E. Williams, Marion, president of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. and General Telephone Company of Ohio, spoke on "Communications, Key to Progress" at the regular noon luncheon meeting of the Circleville Rotary Club yesterday at the Elks Home.

Williams said the current local expansion program is on schedule. The new dial telephone system is slated to be in operation in October, the president declared. He outlined company plans for the near future and went into the history of local telephone service.

A visitor at the meeting, which was directed by Rotary President William Defenbaugh, was Mr. Soewardi, of Bogor, Indonesia.

Williams said, the former office building at 113 Pinckney St. is being doubled in size to accommodate new dial switching and long distance switchboard equipment.

The new central office construction not only brings modern dial service to the community, but will provide a substantial increase in capacity to permit hundreds of additional telephones to be connected. It will permit such changes in grades and classes of service as subscribers may desire. Included in the classes of service will be the availability of individual line and two-party service.

THE NEW DIAL system for Circleville will be integrated into the nationwide operator toll dialing pattern so that Circleville long distance operators will dial directly the distant number in any exchange in the nation which is similarly equipped.

The new long distance switchboards for Circleville will include 12 operator positions as compared to the seven positions already in use, doubling the efficiency of long distance call handling.

Beginning this month and continuing through July, all residence and business telephone users in the entire Circleville area will have their instruments changed to the dial type. All wiring will be checked and will be replaced if necessary.

Additional telephones located anywhere in the home, which are installed when a telephone repairman makes this initial transition, will be installed free of charge. Residence telephone users are urged to take advantage of this free installation of service while the installer-repairmen are making the change.

The installer-repair crew of Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company which does the instrument changing is expected to have all types of equipment available to connect additional services if requested.

Prior to the conversion, telephone company personnel will contact all business telephone users to offer the latest type of business equipment such as private automatic branch exchanges, electronic secretaries, extension telephones, additional listings, hands-free telephones, color telephones, key telephones equipped with inter-communication and hold features.

All residents who are not now telephone users will be contacted and offered the new dial telephone service.

The new building, which houses the new automatic central office equipment, will be completed sometime this month.

The Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company of Circleville had its inception during the 1890's when a group of business men formed the Pickaway Construction Company and cut a new telephone system into service about 1900.

RENAMED "The Citizen's Telephone Company," it provided local telephone service only, in the Circleville area.

A few years later, Ohio State Telephone Company and the Central Union Company were providing long distance lines to nearby points in this area. Shortly after the end of the first World War, these two companies ceased to operate and the Citizen's Telephone Company continued to provide long distance service over these same long distance lines.

About 1927 the Gary Group purchased the Citizen's Telephone Company, and in January 1945 it was one of the many small telephone companies incorporated by the Gary Group to become Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company. In October, 1955, Ohio Consolidated Telephone Company became a member of the General Telephone System.

Dinah Shore Says Success Hinges on Being 'Healthy'

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—"To be a success in show business," said Dinah Shore, "you don't have to be beautiful. You don't have to be smart—or talented. But you've sure got to be healthy."

At least once a year Miss Shore comes to New York to do a show or two. This season, happily, it will be two from New York via NBC-TV this Sunday and next. On Sunday evening her guests will be three Broadway stars, Art Carney, Julie Wilson and Chita Rivera. A week from Sunday her guests will be Ethel Merman, Cyril Ritchard, Andy Griffith and Gwen Verdon.

Whenever Miss Shore makes a pilgrimage to New York, I make a pilgrimage to see Miss Shore as president of the Dinah Shore Fan Club of Glen Ridge, N. J. Miss Shore's three hour-length shows every four weeks make for a strenuous career indeed.

The grind has left no visible marks on Miss Shore. She looks grand and still has the bounce of a new tennis ball. How does she do it? Does she diet or sleep 10 hours a night or what?

"Sometimes I cut down a little on food," she said, plunging a fork into a couple of eggs fried in butter after having slept six hours. "My regular weight is 128 and it's quite easy for me to stay there. Last summer we went abroad and I ate my way from one end of Europe to another. When we came back home I took it easy on food for a while and dropped right back to 128."

Subordination of Education For Military Seen Possible

CINCINNATI (AP)—Although admitting that competent scientists are needed, the Commission on Christian Higher Education of the Methodist church declared here today "we must not subordinate our education to the aims of military efficiency."

"Our nation cannot idolize science without falling under Divine Judgment," said a commission report made at the group's annual meeting here.

"America could improve her scientific techniques while the culture could speed its way toward barbarism," the report continued. "If our main distinction should turn out to be that we surpassed the Russians in producing the tools of death, then our culture would not deserve to survive."

The commission's report was read by The Rev. John O. Gross of Nashville, Tenn., chairman, at the opening of the first of three Methodist educational meetings.

Referring to "the grim showdown with Russia for scientific mastery," the report said:

"That America must have competent scientists is a conclusion about which there is no debate. But to reach this goal we need not make all of our life subordinate to a drive to match Soviet scientific achievements. We do not want our nation's life 'sovietized.'"

"We need something more than one-track minds steeped in the language and skills of science. We want people with capacity to assume the awesome spiritual responsibilities that face the Western world. We need the sort of education that unifies moral and

Farm Income Provisions Are Explained

Self-employed farmers may use an alternate method for figuring their farm earnings Elmer H. Biedenholz district manager of the local Social Security Administration office, and Nathaniel Looker, district director of Internal Revenue, reminded farm operators today.

Looker pointed out that self-employed farmers may figure their earnings for social security in several ways. (1) If your gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800, you may count as your net farm earnings either your actual net or two-thirds of your farm gross income; (2) If your gross farm income is more than $1,800, and your net farm earnings are less than $1,200, you may use either your actual net or $1,200; (3) If your gross farm income is more than $1,800 and your net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, you must use the actual amount of your net earnings.

Looker added that use of the option will enable farmers with gross income as low as $600 to obtain social security protection for themselves in their old age and for their survivors in case of death.

However, he emphasized that regardless of the way in which you figure your net earnings, you must have net earnings of at least $400 (from farming alone, or in combination with other SE earnings) in order to get social security credit for the year.

In addition to the revised optional method, the 1956 amendments extended social security coverage to some farm owners who receive cash or crop shares from tenant farmers. If the farm-landlord, under his agreement with his tenant, materially participates in the production or management of production of the farm crops raised on his land, this income, formerly excluded as rental income, may be reported for social security purposes. This provision is effective for taxable year after 1955.

Requests for information regarding taxes due and tax return forms should be directed to the Internal Revenue Office at Columbus. Questions concerning the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program will be answered by your social security office at 32 W. Main St., Chillicothe.

Subordination of Education For Military Seen Possible

CINCINNATI (AP)—Although admitting that competent scientists are needed, the Commission on Christian Higher Education of the Methodist church declared here today "we must not subordinate our education to the aims of military efficiency."

"We need something more than one-track minds steeped in the language and skills of science. We want people with capacity to assume the awesome spiritual responsibilities that face the Western world. We need the sort of education that unifies moral and

It also asserted the church must encourage a "fundamental reassessment" of American education and added:
